GENERAL LOCAL ITEMS.

—East Cairo has a new hotel.

—Mrs. Dr. Casey will be buried at Villa Ridge this afternoon.

—Mrs. Dave Holmes and children are in Carbondale visiting friends.

—Attention is called to the time changes in the card of the Illinois Central Railroad.

—Cairo, as yet, has not had a symptom of yellow fever, and it is not probable that it will have.

—Mr. J. H. Oberly will address a mass meeting of the Pope and Jackson county Democrats at Dixon Springs, next Saturday.

—A military company is being organized in Cairo to join the Illinois state militia. Already about forty young men have placed their names on the roll.

—Judge Bird, we are told, will start out next week on a stumping expedition through this district in the interest of Capt. Thomas, the Republican candidate for congress.

—We understand that a number of gentlemen of this city, intimate friends of the late Captain Gus. Fowler, will go to Paducah this morning on the yacht Ariadne to attend the funeral.

—Mr. George Lounsbury, formerly of this city, and later a resident of Denver, Colorado, died in that city on last Wednesday. The deceased had many friends in this city, who will regret to hear of his death.

—Health Officer Summerwell, yesterday caused Valentine Resch, the vegetable store man to be arrested, charging him with refusing to comply with his orders in cleaning up his back yard. Resch was fined ten dollars and costs by Justice Robinson.

—The board of health will meet at their headquarters in Winter's block this morning at 8:30 o'clock, to hear the report of the committee appointed yesterday, to ascertain how means can be raised, and what it will cost to establish a floating hospital.

—Dr. Rauch, chairman of the state board of health, and Dr. John E. Owens, surgeon-in-chief of the Illinois Central railroad, who were in the city yesterday for the purpose of making some arrangement for the treatment of yellow fever cases, should any occur here, left for their homes in Chicago, last night.

—George Anderson and Frances Wilson were married by Judge Bird about eight o'clock last evening. There is nothing very remarkable in this bare statement, but when the fact is known that George is a big and very black darky, and Frances a pretty faced and voluptuously formed white woman, the case becomes more interesting.

—Charlie Gibson and Charlie Bowman, the two colored boys arrested by Officer John Gladney for breaking open an Illinois Central railroad car and stealing a lot of canned fruit, etc., were taken before Squire Comings for a hearing yesterday morning. They admitted their guilt and were sent to the county jail to await the action of the county court.

—Yesterday morning a Graves county Kentuckian came to Cairo in a motor wagon, bound for Arkansas. While awaiting the departure of the ferryboat, at the corner of Fourth street and Ohio levee, he was approached by two negroes and a white man, who in a very few minutes had fleeced him out of thirty dollars by the very old knife trick. The victim complained to Chief of Police Arter, but refused to give his name, saying he would sooner lose five hundred dollars than have his name go back to his home mixed up with such a transaction. He resumed his journey at two o'clock yesterday afternoon.

—The death of Captain Gus Fowler, which occurred at his residence in Paducah at five o'clock yesterday morning, though not unexpected, will cause deep regret among his large circle of friends in this city. For the past three years the deceased has suffered from heart disease, though his sufferings were borne with a manliness worthy his character he welcomed death. Captain Fowler was a man among men. He was kind hearted and generous, ever ready to extend a helping hand to the needy and distressed, and was a valued citizen in the community in which he resided. He was a member of the firm of Fowler, Lee & Co., of Paducah, and was to a considerable extent interested in steamboat stock, being the owner of the steamer Fisk and stock in the Evansville and Cairo packets. His remains will be interred at Paducah to-day.

—The readers of the BULLETIN have not forgotten Walter Cunningham, the piano tuner who figured so conspicuously in the columns of this paper, some two years ago. He was in Cairo yesterday, and furnished us another item of a rather sensational character. On Friday evening, about eight o'clock, an old and feeble lady, accompanied by a young woman, with an attractive face and form, arrived in Cairo by the steamer Arkansas Belle. They were on their way to Chicago and went straight to the Illinois Central passenger depot, where they procured tickets, had their baggage checked and sat down to await the departure of the train. They had been there but a short time when Cunningham stepped into the station and commenced conversing with the old lady. He finally turned his attention to the young woman, and after a short but pleasant chat Cunningham remarked that he had to go up street to attend to a little business and, if the young lady did not object, he would be pleased to have her accompany him. The night was beautiful and the walk would refresh her; he would return in a very few minutes. The young woman, after some hesitation, consented to go, and that was the last the old lady saw of her or Cunningham. The pair were registered at the Planter's House yesterday as man and wife, and left yesterday for Evansville by the steamer Dora Cabler. The old lady held the tickets and baggage checks, and left on the train Friday night for her destination. Who the last victim of this wretch is no one knows, but had Mr. Cunningham remained in the city a few hours longer he would in all probability have had occasion to explain his action in this case, as well as in some others that stand to his account.

—About ten o'clock yesterday morning Officer John Hogan, John Sheehan and a man named Owens, while standing on Ohio Levee, observed a large skiff hugging tight the Kentucky shore, making its way slowly up the Ohio river. Thinking that all was not as it should be, the officers procured a skiff and set out in pursuit of the craft. When near a flatboat lying opposite the big wharfboat, they observed four men jump from the skiff and hurry off into the woods, while a fifth remained on board and heading his craft about, started down stream as fast as he could paddle. Officer Hogan landed at the flatboat and gave chase to the four, while Sheehan and Owens continued in pursuit of the skiff. Hogan succeeded in coming up with his men a little way back from the river, but after questioning them, became convinced that there was nothing cooked about them and returned to the flatboat. Sheehan and Owens' man continued his flight. The skiff is a very large and fine one, twenty-two feet long, and is named "Blanche." On examination it was found to contain 5 sacks of wheat, about 13 bushels, 1 sack of corn, 2 feather pillows, 1 pair slippers, 1 pair shoes, 1 screw driver, a coat and vest, 1 clothes brush, 34 empty wheat sacks, 1 large table cloth, 1 pair white double blankets, nearly new, and 2 bed sheets. The entire outfit was brought to this side of the river to await identification. The store of Mr. James Mulcahey, of Dog Tooth, having been recently robbed, it is the belief of the officers the goods belong to him. Mr. Mulcahey was sent for yesterday afternoon, and is expected in Cairo this morning.

THE PROJECTED HOSPITAL.

THE MEETING OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH YESTERDAY MORNING—A COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ASCERTAIN THE COST OF SUCH AN INSTITUTION—VIEWS OF DR. RAUCH, CHAIRMAN OF THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH—ANOTHER MEETING THIS MORNING.

A meeting of the board of health was held at the health office in Winter's block yesterday morning.

There were present: Aldermen Wright, O'Callahan, Thistlewood and Lancaster. Mayor Winter and Alderman Foley were absent from the city. There were also present Dr. Rauch of Chicago, chairman of the state board of health; Dr. Wardner, also a member of the state board of health; Dr. John E. Owens, surgeon of the Illinois Central railroad; Dr. Dunning, quarantine physician; Dr. Waldo, assistant United States surgeon, and Col. James Johnson, of the Illinois Central railroad.

The object of the meeting as stated by Alderman Wright was to discuss the importance of erecting a hospital for such cases of yellow fever or other infectious or contagious diseases as may be brought from the South by river or rail.

After considerable discussion and exchange of views by the gentlemen present, Dr. Rauch said that as regards the hospital, he hoped there would be no use for it, and possibly there would not be, but the present atmospheric conditions were such that we were not free from danger, and he thought that it would be well to be prepared for any emergency, and though the state board was poor financially, it would contribute as liberally to the support of a hospital as its limited means would allow.

Dr. Owens of the Illinois Central said that his corporation was willing to do anything the city might ask that was in person, in aid of the establishment and support of a hospital, and in case the city failed in its efforts, or until such time as a hospital could be put in order, the Illinois Central was prepared to take care of any cases of yellow fever that might be brought north by the trains of the Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans road. If any person afflicted with this fever should come, they will be treated in some isolated place on the other side of the river.

At the conclusion of Dr. Owens' remarks Dr. Dunning offered a resolution requesting the chair to appoint a committee, to be made up of representatives of the city, state, United States and Illinois Central railroad, to take into consideration the feasibility of establishing a floating hospital, and to ascertain the possible cost of such an institution, and what each of the interests represented would contribute to its maintenance. The resolution was adopted, and the chair appointed on the part of the city Alderman Thistlewood, the state, Dr. Wardner, the United States, Dr. Waldo, and the Illinois Central railroad, James Johnson.

On motion of Alderman Thistlewood, Dr. Dunning was added to the committee, and the board adjourned to meet this morning at half past eight o'clock, to hear the report of the committee.

ALLEN'S MEETING.

THE GOSPEL OF TRUE GREENBACKISM ABLY EXPOUNDED.

The court-house was filled last night by Democrats, Republicans and Nationals, for the purpose of listening to an address by Judge Wm. J. Allen, the Democratic candidate for congress.

On motion of Judge Green Mr. Oberly was called to the chair. After a few words of good cheer, the chairman introduced Judge Allen, who was received with applause. The judge at once entered upon a discussion of the issues involved in the canvass, and spoke ably for about two hours and a half, holding the crowd and convincing all that he was a true representative of a wise greenback doctrine as contra-distinguished from the disjointed foolishness of the National doctrine as expounded by men like Mr. S. I. Davis.

He charged upon the Republican party the responsibility for the financial legislation of congress since 1862, and reviewed that legislation, showing that it had inflicted great evils upon the country. He favored the repeal of the "strengthening act of 1869," the taxation of government bonds; the retirement of the National bank circulation, and substitution of greenbacks for their bills; the repeal of the resumption act; an enlargement of the volume of the currency; a reformation of the Indian policy; the Texas Pacific railroad; the improvement of the Mississippi river, and legislation in the interest of the Mississippi valley.

We cannot give even a synopsis of the judge's speech, but we assure those who did not hear it that they lost an opportunity to listen to a very thorough, fair and able discussion of the issues prominent in the pending canvass.

SMOKERS, if you wish a fine "Key West" or "Imported" cigar, call at Kormeyer's cigar store. It is the only place in the city almost daily in receipt of fresh goods.

NOTICE is hereby given that the garbage wagon will remove daily (excepting Sundays), from the front of all houses, all vegetables and dry kitchen offal of every description, provided the same is placed in boxes or barrels and placed in convenient locations in front of said houses.
